† Original notice of the question was received in Hindi.

(b) and (c) The objective of the Government is eradicating Polio from the country and obtaining Polio-free certification by 2005. There has been significant progress towards achieving polio-free status. The number of Polio Cases has declined from 1934 in 1998 to 1126 in 1999,265 in 2000, and 268 in 2001. Although the number of Polio cases in 2001 remained more or less the same as in 2000, the number of polio-endemic districts in the courtry came down from 314 in 1998, to 192 in 1999, 89 in 2000, and 63 in 2001. Polio is endemic now mainly in Uttar Pradesh and Bihar which accounted for 216 and 27 cases respectively in 2001 out of total 268. Mopup Vaccination rounds are being undertaken in high-risk districts of Uttar Pradesh and Bihar during low transmission seasons and in areas in which fresh cases of Polio are detected. The Government has planned two National Immunization Days, all over the country and two additional Sub National Immunizations Days in the States of U.P Bihar, Haryana and Delhi during the winter season of the current year.
